

CUTTING LINE FOR STOCKING B.

CUTTING LINE FOR STOCKING A.

A hand-drawn diagram of a stocking, represented by two parallel, wavy lines. The lines are drawn in a dark red or maroon ink. The stocking is oriented vertically, with the toe patch at the top and the heel patch at the bottom. A line is drawn along the inner curve of the stocking, starting from the toe patch and ending at the heel patch. This line is labeled with the text "CUTTING LINE FOR STOCKING A." written in a similar dark red or maroon ink, following the curve of the line.
